

healthcare employers identify that a successful OET result ensures optimal communication skills with patients and colleagues. For many, OET exam scores can dictate higher rates of pay and a better pool of job opportunities. While receiving high scores on the OET exam can be beneficial, figuring out how to pass the test can be overwhelming. Luckily, OET Online exam preparation methods will make a big difference.

If you are preparing for OET, then below mentioned are several useful tips that can help you score high in the OET test.

Give up Hobbies

Spending time on your hobbies can make the preparation process cumbersome. It is more important to maintain a calm mind to be able to retain more information. It will also help you increase the eagerness, efficiency, and result in a lackluster performance.

Take Notes

Taking notes is an essential skill you will need for the listening, speaking, and writing sections of the OET test. Since you cannot go back and listen to the audio recording again and this is where the function of taking good notes comes into play. Persons who obtain excellent notes usually get higher scores on the OET test.

Know test Format

We always recommend students to know the format of the test beforehand. It will not only keep you calm on the test day but also help you stay prepared about what kind of questions you will be asked. Therefore, the first and foremost thing you need to do is, know the format and type of questions you will be asked on the test.

Eat nutritious food

Always eat nutritious food for the test day. Since candidates will not be permitted to bring any food or drinks into the test room with them. You can have fresh fruits or light and nutritious meal for the test. Avoid caffeine in the morning as it will give you shakes and you may get tired very quickly during the test.

Develop English Language Skills

To get started with; you should check your English language abilities. If you think your English language understanding is not upto the mark. Then you should consider joining an English class.

If you believe your English language skills are fine and are prepared, you can pick the test date and appear for the test.

Learn to make a guess ever leave any question unanswered. You have a 25% chance of getting the correct answer even if you make a guess. You can try eliminating all of the answers you know are wrong and then make a wise guess. Attempting a question is always better than leaving it blank.

Speak at normal pace

Speak correctly and confidently- You will lose marks for incorrect or poor pronunciation. Hence, while speaking do not struggle to utilize words that you cannot converse correctly. Candidates will also lose marks for unsuitable vocabulary usage. Before you write an expression, make sure you know how to use it properly.

Improve your weaker areas

Know where you lack is a good thing as it will help you improve the weaker areas. Identify your weak areas and work harder to progress them. For example, if you believe you are weak at writing, start writing more. Similarly for the speaking section, speaking aloud and playing roles is a good strategy to improve your speaking skills for the test.

Read test instructions carefully- Always make it a habit of listening and reading the test instructions carefully. These instructions may contain significant information which might be requisite to respond the questions.

Wear Comfortable Clothes

Always wear comfortable clothes on the test day. It has been rightly said that when you feel comfortable you perform better! Don't wear tight-fitting clothes because you have to sit in one place for a long time and it may cause discomfort. In short, it can be said that dress for success.

How to pass oet speaking test

The OET Speaking sub-test is specific to each profession, based on a typical workplace situation and the demands of the profession.

The test assesses candidates' ability to communicate in English, in a simulated health-related consultation.

It consists of two simulated consultations in the form of face-to-face role-plays between a patient and a health practitioner. The candidate takes the role of the practitioner and the interviewer plays the patient or patient's relative/career (or for veterinary science, the animal's owner/career).

Candidates are assessed against the following criteria:

1. Overall communicative effectiveness
2. Intelligibility
3. Fluency

writing, start writing more. Similarly for the speaking section, speaking aloud and playing roles is a good strategy to improve your speaking skills for the test.

Read test instructions carefully- Always make it a habit of listening and reading the test instructions carefully. These instructions may contain significant information which might be requisite to respond the questions.

Wear Comfortable Clothes

Always wear comfortable clothes on the test day. It has been rightly said that when you feel comfortable you perform better! Don't wear tight-fitting clothes because you have to sit in one place for a long time and it may cause discomfort. In short, it can be said that dress for success.

How to pass oet speaking test

The OET Speaking sub-test is specific to each profession, based on a typical workplace situation and the demands of the profession.

The test assesses candidates' ability to communicate in English, in a simulated health-related consultation.

It consists of two simulated consultations in the form of face-to-face role-plays between a patient and a health practitioner. The candidate takes the role of the practitioner and the interviewer plays the patient or patient's relative/career (or for veterinary science, the animal's owner/career).

Candidates are assessed against the following criteria:

1. Overall communicative effectiveness
2. Intelligibility
3. Fluency